TAMMANY HALL GIVES A GENUINE SNUB

TO THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE—THE NEW YORK
HERALD, A STRONG PAR-KER PAPER,

GIVES THE DETAILS OF THE
STORY—THREE OUT OF
THIRTY-SEVEN TAMMANY
BRAVES PRESENT

Tammany turned a cold shoulder to the Democratic National organization last night. The members of the National committee were invited to the Democratic club with the understanding that they would meet there Charles F. Murphy, Mayor McClellan and all the Tammany leaders. Mr. Murphy and the mayor sent their regrets and none of Mr. Murphy's close friends attended the reception.

Only three of the thirty-seven Tammany district leaders attended the reception and only one of the department heads in the city government was present. All the Parker leaders, with the exception of Senator Gorman, went to the club, including David B. Hill.

Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, was elected unanimously to the chairmanship of the Democratic National committee, after a final effort had been made to induce Senator Gorman to take the place.

In answer to a poll of the New York Stock Exchange made by the Herald, 231 members declared for President Roosevelt and 108 for Judge Parker.

Murphy's Note.
Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, did not attend the reception given by the Democratic Club to the members of the Democratic National committee last evening, neither was any of his immediate friends or lieutenants of the Democratic organization of New York county present.

In fact, only three of the district leaders visited the club, and these remained for short periods only, as if to watch the proceedings and report to their chief how the absence of the leaders of the local organization affected the National leaders. Those present were Julius Harburger, of the Tenth district, who disappeared before the reception really began; John T. Oakley, leader of the Fourteenth, and commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity, who left the club house soon after David B. Hill and William F. Sheehan appeared, and Thomas J. Dunn, leader of the Twenty-sixth, who spent the greater part of the evening about the club house.

Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, arrived late. He declined to say where Mr. Murphy was, and said that the affair had been arranged on such short notice that Mr. Murphy was unable to break two positive engagements which he made last week. He stated that he was not at liberty to state what these engagements were, and ridiculed the idea that the absence of Mr. Murphy and all of the more important Tammany leaders signified a preconceived plan to remain away from the reception.

John Fox, who issued a positive statement on Monday afternoon that Mr. Murphy and all of the Tammany leaders would surely be present, was busy throughout the evening explaining why none of them was in evidence. He did not learn that Mr. Murphy would not be present until he arrived at the Democratic club last evening, when he found a note from the Tammany chief awaiting him. This note, written on the regular Tammany note head, is as follows:—

"Hon. John Fox, Democratic Club.
"Dear Senator:—I regret extremely my inability to attend the reception to-night given by the club to the members of the National Democratic committee because of an important appointment made a few days ago which it is impossible for me to break.

"Hoping that the reception will be a gratifying success in every way, I remain sincerely yours.

"CHARLES F. MURPHY."
This note discouraged Judge Parker's friends, but they still believed that Mr. Murphy's immediate advisors would be present. J. Sargent Cram, Senator Victor Dowling, John J. Delaney, W. Bourke Cockran and Tax Commissioner O'Donnell were among those expected. None of them appeared, however. Mayor McClellan sent regrets also, and his secretary, John F. O'Brien, who usually represents him on occasions of this kind when he is unable to be present, was absent.

The action of Mr. Murphy and his friends caused no end of comment among the National committeemen, who looked forward to meeting him. They were surprised and disappointed and resented the slight which they believed had been shown them. While they would not talk for publication they intimated that Mr. Murphy's action would be remembered by them in the future, and that if he should have occasion to take part in a National situation he would meet with scant courtesy if they had anything to say about it.

Few local Democrats of prominence were present, the organization being represented by John W. Kellar, Asa Bird Gardiner, Bird S. Coler, Judge Foster, Joseph F. Mulqueen and others who were prominent during the Croker regime. Among the independent Democrats present were Aqueduct Commissioner Curtis, John B. McDonald, August Belmont, Perry Belmont, O. H. P. Belmont, Charles V. Fornes and others.

The visitors who went to the club found their way about alone. No one was on hand to meet them at the door. David B. Hill, Senator Daniel, Norman E. Mack and Thomas Taggart were the first to arrive. They proceeded some distance down the corridor of the club before they were recognized when they were surrounded by a small group. A few moments later Colonel Guffey, of Pennsylvania, and John W. Kern, of Indiana, appeared. They did not remain long, however.

Mr. Murphy expected to go to Esopus to-day to visit Judge Parker. Representative Cockran and Judge Morgan J. O'Brien were to go with him. It was said last night, however, that in view of his absence from the club last night and the feeling which it aroused among the members of the National committee it was probable he would not appear in Esopus with them to-day, but would postpone for a few days his intended conference with the head of the ticket.

FIRST WARD.

By Our Regular Correspondent.

Miss Estella McGee, of Muncie, Ind., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Jones, of East Park, and other friends in the city.

Homer Hall and wife, of the First ward, left this morning for a month's stay and recuperation at Webster Springs. Mr. Joseph Murphy, of Oil City, has been secured to take charge of the drug store during Homer's absence.

Charles L. Robinson, of Winchester, Va., who has been in the city on a brief business trip, returned home yesterday morning. While here, he secured a team of horses and spring wagon with which he drove through on his return, and it will require about four days to cover the distance of 160 miles. He is engaged in the ice business there, the same having been followed by him formerly while here, and in which he is reported to be doing well. For this we are glad and wish him continued success.

J. H. Eckles returned from Mountain Lake Park on Monday, and says it was cold enough up there on Sunday for overcoats, but he, being without one, had to sit by a coal fire all day, and chills yet to think of it.

The Moonlight Dancing Club took their second outing at East Fairmont Park, on the J. O. Watson Tuesday night. They report a good attendance, a cool, delightful ride on the boat, with plenty of ice cream, refreshments, fun and dancing at the Park grounds during their stay.

Hough's boat livery has been augmented in its pleasure producing facilities, by the addition of three more new row-boats, made in the latest style, and with all modern improvements. This would indicate prosperity in business, and that they have to increase the supply in order to keep up with the demands made upon their craft.

Mrs. Dr. C. L. Boyers, of Hebron, Dottie O. Stanley, of Adlai, and M. B. Riggs, of Wheeling, arrived yesterday to visit Dr. Wm. F. Boyers and other relatives in the city.

Marjorie, the young child of B. F. Male on Merchant street, is reported to be sick of pneumonic croup. She was pronounced dangerously ill until within 48 hours, when there was a change for the better, and up to the present is still improving.

W. S. Thomas has the contract for a week's hauling in the oil field near Fairview. He left with seven of his reliable teams the other day, and reports from him indicate that he is having good progress. We miss him here, however.

A colored man driving one of the cabs to a funeral yesterday evening, had the misfortune of getting a hot box on his hands while returning beyond East Park. He drove into the city with the wheel locked, until he reached the first electric light. Here he was intercepted by Policeman Minnear and our reporter from the First ward, who suggested that he stop, have the wheel removed and spindle oiled, as the tire of the wheel was already nearly worn through to the wood. He acquiesced, got a smith with tools who succeeded in removing the box, while others got some grease for the spindle, thus enabling him to roll on instead of dragging the wheel at the risk of a large cost for repairs.

The funeral services of Agnes Shaffer, of Merchant street, who died on Tuesday night, were held this afternoon at the M. P. church, and interment at Maple Grove cemetery. Rev. Allman officiated. The deceased was 18 years old on the day she was taken with the first hemorrhage of the lungs, which was followed with others in succession, and rapidly exhausted her strength and vitality, culminating with death in 18 days from her first attack. She was of a bright, cheery disposition, and hopeful of recovery, even to the very last stage of her brief illness. Her many friends, old and young, with whom she was ever popular, would have fain wished that her life could have been spared to them and the family, but it could not be. The sympathy of her many friends go out to the family in this sad affliction, and to her sister Flossie, also lying in an adjoining room sick of fever, during all the days of her sister's illness, and on whom the shock of her sudden and lamentable death will fall with heavier weight.

A Thrilling Experience.

George H. Richardson had a thrilling experience last evening which he has no desire to repeat. While driving Harry Shaw's horse in a buggy across the bridge, he met an automobile, at which the horse took fright, and required Mr. Richardson and others assisting, to get it safely over. He then drove on out to Barrackville and back, when on his return he met the same auto on the west end of the bridge. The horse at once became seized with its former fright even to the point of unmanageable madness. Others rushed to the rescue and assisted in freeing it from the buggy, and yet it reared, leaped and plunged until it took three men to hold it, and withal when midway, came near throwing itself over the railing into the river. They did not succeed in getting it under control until the bridge had been crossed. Worn out in strength, as well as strained and skinned about the wrists in holding on, Richardson then turned over the horse to two colored men to take home while he rested, and then footed it on home, saying he would have nothing more to do with that horse in any shape or form. He added, that while in the army he had handled scary horses and wild horses, but never one yet so crazed with fright, and ungovernable in its madness as this one. Feeling relieved that none of them were killed, and that he had returned the horse to its owner still alive, he rubbed his brow and moved homeward resolved that he would have nothing more to do with it, even to befriend his neighbor.

PLACE FIRST BET
ON CURB OF 10 TO 7.

For the first time since the Roosevelt-Parker campaign opened a bet was made yesterday in the Broad street curb market at odds of 10 to 7. Bunnell & Buchanan placing $1,000 on Roosevelt to $700 on Parker. H. R. Sadler took the small end of the wager.

Recent wagers have been made at odds of 5 on Roosevelt to 3 on Parker. There is very little interest in election betting as yet in the financial district. When the market closed yesterday 6 was offered on Parker to 10 on Roosevelt, while 10 on Roosevelt to 7-1-2 on Parker was asked. Yesterday's N. Y. Herald.

NICE BALL

THE PROFESSIONALS SHUT
THEM OUT AT 5 TO 0.

The game between the locals and the Y. M. C. A. team at Traction Park yesterday resulted in a victory for the former, 5 to 0.

The contest was exciting for two and a half innings, when the locals scored four runs on four hits and three errors.

Bryson pitched great ball for the locals, allowing the opposition but four hits and striking out nine men.

"Dummy" Leitner was the whole show for Y. M. C. A., although ten hits were secured off his delivery, yet several came after the side should have been retired.

Ridgely, Howard and Lane played nice ball, each having difficult chances and accepting them nicely.

TRADERS HOTEL

Is Not Closed Nor Will It Be, Though the Hotel Building Will Shortly Be Sold By Trustees.

A report has been circulated around the city that the Traders Hotel is closed or was about to close down. It is true that the hotel building is sold shortly but the hotel has not been closed nor will it after it is sold, says the Clarksburg Telegram. It will constantly open until the sale will then be continued as a hotel as it has been, except that the management will likely be made different. The report is, therefore, circulated is, therefore
